

Reading Check

Directions: Recall the events in the letters. Then answer each question in one or two sentences.

1. Why does Margaret Paston warn her husband to “beware of Lord Moleyns and his men”?

2. When Margaret writes to her husband from their Hellesdon estate, she says, “I have no one attending me who dares to be known”. Why is this so?

3. Explain why Richard Calle forgives Margery if she denied their engagement?

4. What does Richard ask of Margery in his letters to her?

5. Describe at least two upsets faced by members of the Paston family, as told in the last four letters-to or from John II.
