ANALYZE IMAGERY

Imagery consists of words and phrases that a writer uses to re-create sensory experiences for the reader. Such language may appeal to the sense of sight, hearing, touch, taste, or smell.

Directions: As you read the sonnets, record examples of language that appeals to the senses. Explain the idea or emotion that is conveyed through this imagery.

| Sonnet | Imagery     | Idea or Emotion Conveyed     |
|--------|-------------|------------------------------|
| 18     | rough winds | Summer weather can be harsh. |
|        |             |                              |
|        |             |                              |
|        |             |                              |
|        |             |                              |
|        |             |                              |
|        |             |                              |
